

F55
Z: C8w
C.2

Carolina Colonists' Costumes

N. C.
Doc.

(women)

1663

North Carolina State Library

Raleigh

The women's dress, patterned after court styles, remained much the same for almost the whole century 1663-1763. The hair style was short and curly in front with the back either in long curls or put up on top of the head in a bun. The shoes had pointed toes and spool heels much as the shoes of today.